

WILSONIANS PLAN TO SCARE BRYAN

Scheme Is to Back Wet to Beat Nebraskan for Real Choice.

VE TO POWER IS HELD

Commoner Holds Enough Votes to Block Administration on Two-Thirds Rule.

By WILLIAM PHILIP SIMMS
Staff Correspondent of the International News Service.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 24.—Fear that William Jennings Bryan will have not only a balance of power when the democratic convention gets down to business of naming its ticket, but will make thorough use of his veto, has led his heavy hand on many of the party here.

Plans for meeting this already have been suggested. One of the plans is to oppose the party's favorite, whoever he might be, with a "wet" candidate as the only other alternative; then to hold this as a club over Bryan's head, until, in defense of his well known "dry" principles, he threw his support in the desired direction.

The two-thirds rule which requires 73 votes out of a total of 192 to nominate, it is said, is causing Wilsonian democrats here to speak of a Bryan-ruled convention as a possibility. But 25 "dry" votes would be necessary to vote Bryan complete mastery of the assembly, so far as a nominee is concerned, and while it is pointed out that he could not hope to nominate his own man, neither could the convention nominate one to whom Bryan is opposed.

As outlined by some of the democrats here, the situation is about like this:

Bryan is on his way to San Francisco with two big ideas which he wishes to put across:

First, a plank calling for ratification of the treaty with whatever reservations the senate sees fit to make, and, second, to see that a "dry" plank becomes part of the platform, or, failing this, to make sure that no "wet" or moist plank is included. Between treaty and prohibition, it is said he would cling to prohibition.

President Wilson, on the contrary, lays little stress on the "wet" or Harding's Birthplace.

Senator Warren G. Harding, the republican nominee for president, was born near Bloomingburg, Ohio, in the humble house pictured above. It is said to have originally been a log cabin, but has been partly remodeled. Bloomingburg is about forty miles from Marion, Senator Harding's present home. The citizens of Marion immediately after Harding's nomination started a movement to "restore" the log cabin.

"dry" issue but does insist on his kind of a treaty plank.

That the support of President Wilson and the administration will go to the candidate who is "right" on the treaty question as the president views it, is not disputed, while it is equally certain that Bryan will favor a candidate willing to accept reservations, even those of Senator Lodge.

To Bring Wet Forth.
At this point a deadlock is considered likely unless Bryan can be called off. So it is that many consider it not improbable that one of the "wets" will be used as a lightning-bolt to scare him into supporting a democrat of the Wilsonian brand.

Bryan, it is said, would be compensated, and to some extent soothed by the omission of a damp plank in the platform. If not the inclusion in it of a "dry" one.

Silent on U. S. Debt.

LONDON, June 24.—The British treasury department today authorized the statement that no proposition for dealing with the allied indebtedness to the United States was discussed either at the Hythe or Boulogne conferences. Neither have any of the governments represented at those conferences ever suggested the repudiation of their obligations, it was added.

MURDERER MEETS FATE OF VICTIM

Tulsa Bandit Identified After Being Slain in Kansas City.

Chief of Police Gustafson has received photographs and information from the Kansas City police department, which leaves practically no doubt as to the identity of the slayer of Policeman Meacham in this city several weeks ago. It was announced yesterday.

Eye-witnesses to the dramatic shooting of Meacham, and thrilling escape of his slayer, have identified the photographs and description received from Kansas City as fitting the hi-jacker and murderer.

E. E. Bowen, a member of the Kansas City force, in a letter to the Tulsa police chief, says he visited the slayer in a hospital after he had been mortally wounded while resisting arrest by Kansas City police.

The bandit, who gave his name as G. R. Smith, believed Bowen to be a member of the underworld and freely boasted of having shot Meacham, according to Bowen's letter.

SUFFRAGISTS TO TENNESSEE

Leaders Will Go To State to Wage Battle For Federal Amendment.

WASHINGTON, June 24.—Plans to put Tennessee in the suffrage column and thereby enfranchise the women of the United States before the November elections, were announced tonight by the national woman's party.

Miss Sue White of Nashville, chairman for Tennessee of the woman's party, will leave Washington tomorrow to direct the campaign in her state. Miss White said tonight that a poll of the Tennessee legislature, taken by the woman's party, showed that the suffrage forces would have a majority in the session to be called soon by Governor Roberts.

Officers and organizers of the woman's party who will go to Tennessee to conduct the campaign for ratification include Mrs. Florence Daynard Hillen, chairman for Delaware for the party, who led the militant suffragist forces in the unsuccessful attack on the Delaware legislature.

Brooklyn Man Pardoned.
NEW YORK, June 24.—A pardon signed by President Wilson was received today by Marshall James A. Power for Morris Zucker a Brooklyn dentist and socialist, convicted in 1918 for violation of the espionage act, and sentenced to serve 15 years in the federal prison at Atlanta.

Zucker appealed his case and has never served any time in prison.

HONOR FIRST OIL MAN

Tulsa Will Celebrate Drake Day October—Many Features at Big Celebration.

October 4 has been definitely decided upon as the date on which the annual observance by the Drake day association will be held in Tulsa. A letter was received at the chamber of commerce yesterday from Edwin C. Hill, secretary of the association, stating that the suggested date entirely is satisfactory, and thanking the chamber for its interest in the matter.

Plans are now being formulated by the oil fraternity to make "Drake day" this year an occasion of importance, not only to the oil industry, but to acquaint the outside world with the achievement of Drake when he drilled the first petroleum well in 1859.

Secretary Hill has announced that he will immediately notify oil men in all parts of the world of the date of the Tulsa celebration.

Dollars--

Fifty Cents Each?

If this bank advertised dollars at fifty cents each there would be a wild scramble, yet that is, to all practical purposes, what a savings account means to you. It is common knowledge that the purchasing power of a dollar, based on pre-war prices, is less than fifty cents. You therefore receive a greater number of dollars for a given piece of work, but each dollar is worth about fifty cents. Some day these dollars will be worth one hundred cents if prices ever return to normal, or twice as much as they cost you. Save all you can, and every decline in prices will increase the value of the dollars you have saved. Start a saving account at this bank NOW.
